Licensee Remuneration

The cost of providing a financial product or service to you will depend on the nature and complexity of the advice, financial product and/or service provided. Generally, whenever your Adviser provides a recommendation for a financial product or service, your Adviser may be remunerated through either:

- An initial fee for service; or
- An ongoing fee for service; or
- An implementation fee; or
- Commission on insurance payments from product providers where applicable*; or
- A combination of any of the above.

*KDM Financial will receive a commission from the Insurance product provider with whom your business is placed. The amount varies depending upon the product, but it is usually in the range of 0% - 60% of the premium (excluding taxes and statutory charges). The commission payable is included in the premium quoted to you, therefore there is usually no additional cost to you. Details of the specific commission will be outlined to you in your SoA or RoA. If other fee for advice is being charged, they will be also outlined in your SoA or RoA.

Ongoing commissions may also be payable upon renewal of the policy, these will also be disclosed in the SoA or RoA.

(e.g. For example, for an insurance product with an annual premium of $2,000, where the product provider pays an upfront commission of 60%, the commission received will be $1,200. The product provider could also pay 10% of the annual premium as ongoing commission for as long as you hold the product. Assuming the same annual premium of $2,000, the ongoing commission would equate to $200 per year.)

Details of the fees that you will be charged will vary based on the service you engage your Adviser for. Your prior consent regarding any, fees & benefits to be paid to your Adviser will be obtained prior to the financial service being provided. Agreed services and the applicable fees will be outlined to you in the Adviser's terms of Engagement. All fees are inclusive of GST.

Remuneration

KDM Financial also markets under MT Wealth, a company name licensed under Marsh Tincknell Accountants.

Marsh Tincknell Accountants receives 15% of fees and commissions for referring clients to KDM Financial.

Referrals

Provided that there is no conflict of interest for the Adviser and that the service is in your best interest, the third party may receive a fee for the referral.

If your Adviser referred you to a third party for a service they could not provide, the Adviser can't receive a referral fee. The Advisers' employer can receive the fees provided it does not create a conflict for your Adviser. It is important to note that your Adviser will only refer you to another party if it is in your best interest to do so.

As part of the Code, you must give free, prior and informed full consent for any benefit that will be obtained before being referred.

You will receive more detailed information concerning any referral fee in your SoA or other relevant document.
